“ Jack was my cousin, and though I had not seen him in 50 years, we exchanged Christmas cards for most of those 50 years .His infectious personality and sense of humor permeated through his written word, and I felt as though, somehow, we were closer that the 50 years and 2500 miles between would indicate. I always suspected that some day, we would meet again. We will, but, unfortunately, not on this earthly plane. I will miss your Christmas card, and the often humorous notes you would always include... Thanks for staying connected Jack. It meant more to me than you know...
Love You Cuz...
